Rollins Shaw Is Named Fulton's City Manager

Rollins Shaw, city coordinator for Glasgow, Kentucky for the past six years will take over the duties as Fulton's City Manager on April first. Mr. Shaw, 35, has a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Bowling Green Business School. He is married and the father of three boys, ages three, eight and nine. The Shaws are members of the Baptist Church. They have purchased the Jim Robey home in Country Club Courts.

In commenting on his successor Mr. Robey said: "He is a very able and efficient administrator. I think that he will be able to do a fine job here."

Mr. Shaw is a captain in the National Guard. At the meeting

Monday the City Commission granted Shaw two weeks leave in July to attend National Guard training.

In other action Monday night the Commission:

—Voted in favor of installing water mains in Meadowview, with a tap-on fee to be fixed at a later date.

—Granted Mrs. Anna Belle Edwards a waiver of license fee for the sale of magazines by the American Legion Auxiliary.

—Awarded to Houses and Homes of USA the bid on the $180,000 bond issue on construction of the sewage disposal system.

—Re-appointed Charles Reams and Mayor Delmyer to the Fulton Electric Plant Board.

—Named R. S. McCain as assistant City Tax Assessor.

—Authorized the mayor to sign a contract with McDade Construction Company to build the Collins Street bridge.

—Heard a report from the City Manager on recent damage to the fire truck and postponed action on repairs until a further study could be made.

Prior to the meeting, Mayor Delmyer complimented City Manager James Robey, the Police Department and Max McDade for their efforts in combating the high water situation on Monday.

It was such fun and excitement watching our own Nancy Adams on the Perry Como Show last Thursday night. A lot of people didn't quite recognize Nancy, but I did. I saw Nancy when she was home around Christmas time and she has changed more than somewhat since the memorable Godfrey Show in 1958. In the first place, Nancy is a little older and the few years have been mighty good to her. She is a svelte, glamorous, poised young lady whose singing voice is getting better all the time.

I couldn't help but ponder the various phases of a career in show business as I watched Nancy on the Perry Como Show. On the Godfrey Show, she was a "young find." Her youth, coupled with her talent, made Godfrey take notice and that he did. When the extreme youth business is over, a person with talent must prove the point. And that's what Nancy has done. When you think of the thousands, maybe millions of people all over the country longing, laboring, praying for a little bit of chance on TV, I think Nancy did right well to get on the Perry Como Show at all. I would say Nancy is a great deal more talented than we stop to realize.

Unless miss my guess, the coming months and years will bring more real pride to Fulton through Nancy Adams. I have always been extremely proud of the little part I had in being around when she got her start. I'm going to be around when I can say "I knew that lady when..."

This is Girl Scout Week. As far as I'm concerned it means a whole lot more than just another proclamation. The Scout program, both Boy and Girl, takes on added importance today when we read so many unsavory incidents that our young people are confronted with these days. Somehow or another, whenever I read a story that some young people are in trouble, I always wonder if that boy or girl was ever in the Scouting program. Chances are ninety-nine times out of a hundred that they were not.

I've said this before and I will say it as many times as I can. There aren't enough words in the English language to express my appreciation for the wonderful work done by the Scout leaders in this area. There are so many times that I find myself involved in some project or another that my attention is diverted from what scouting means to young boys and girls. I suppose it's during these times that I get that feeling of guilt... for there's always a Scout leader who calls about a meeting or a project or another for my children and yours. The work of the Scout leaders seems never to stop. They're almost like the old saying about the postman... "through rain and snow and leaden skies"... the Scout work goes on. Thank heavens that it does!

I think the story that Rainey Apperson, society editor of the Mayfield Messenger wrote about Girl Scout week expresses some valuable concepts of those wonderful little Girl Scouts. Here it is:

A PROMISE IN ACTION is the theme of Girl Scout Week—which celebrates the fifty-second Anniversary of the Founding of the First Girl Scout Troop in Savannah, Georgia on March 12, 1912. The theme places special emphasis on the Promise which all Girl Scouts make. Brownies.

Industry Plan At Columbus, Ky. Appears Delayed

Some of the 2000 acres purchased last year of land by Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Land Company near Columbus for an industrial site will be offered this spring for farming, according to word received from Clinton last week.

Joe Marshall of Paducah who worked with GM & O in the acquisition said the land will be used temporarily for the production of crops while waiting for word on development of the site.

MEETING LATER!

The meeting of the Bennett Homemakers Club, scheduled for this week, is being postponed. The Club will meet Thursday, March 19, in the home of Mrs. Bill Fenwick in Water Valley.

Retail Merchants Group Cites Need For Painting Buildings To Clean Up City

Fulton's new postoffice will be dedicated on April 26. The ceremonies will include the visits here of high-ranking Federal and State officials.

Last week a group of national public relations experts were in Fulton for a luncheon to make giant plans for the second annual International Banana Festival. Scores of State, National and Central American dignitaries will visit in the city at that time.

Tourists will be coming through the city all summer long. These and other events were discussed at a meeting Monday night when it was revealed that Fulton's downtown district is desperately in need of some paint jobs to make the city presentable for the notable guests.

Mrs. Connie Quinn, assistant to the Commissioner of the Department of Conservation spoke plainly and forcefully of Fulton's great need for a paint up job along the city's Main Street. The drab appearance of unpainted buildings on Lake Street have long been the draw-back for an attractive Lake Street, local citizens at the meeting revealed.

In this connection Jerry Creason, the new chairman of the Retail Merchants Association Wednesday mailed a letter to interested persons asking them to join in the program to paint up those buildings that deter the progress of the city and contribute an unsightly appearance to the community.

Mr. Creason's letter says: "In connection with Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week, the Banana Festival and to make our town a better place to live and work in, and more attractive to people seeking industrial sites, we are asking all managers and owners of businesses to put forth every effort to get the building painted."

"Some of the buildings in the business district are in deplorable condition, and in need of painting. They have needed painting for a long time."

"The Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Committee has set April 25th as Paint-Up Day. So PLEASE do not just read this letter and throw it away. Let's get out and see if we can get these buildings painted."

At the meeting, Mrs. Quinn was introduced by Mrs. Robert Rudolph. The Frankfort speaker pointed out the importance of a Clean-Up campaign in a town saying that there are three principal reasons. "First," she said, "Clean-Up is essential for your own self respect. Nobody wants to live in a dirty house, likewise you don't want to live in a dirty community."

"Secondly, industry looks to a community that take pride in itself. Third, a clean community is vital if we are to keep one of Kentucky's biggest sources of income—the tourist business, which is second only to agriculture in income."

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Ward Bushart. Rev. W. T. Barnes gave the invocation.

Frank LeMaster gave plans for the Clean-Up Week campaign which will open with a parade on Saturday, April 18, and close with the inspection day bus tour on Friday, the paint-up day Saturday and the final event is the dedication of the new Fulton post-office on Sunday, April 26.

Citizen's Band Radio Operators Offer Great Help In Times Of Urgent Need

Last week, Richard Lewis, one of the friendly employees of the Piggly-Wiggly Super Market asked a News reporter: "Do you know how the other people in the wreck are getting along?"

At that time the reporter had not learned too much about the accident that had occurred on Sunday afternoon, but she learned fast from Richard. You see, Richard had a real interest in the accident because he was instrumental in getting help to the scene of the tragedy just about as quick as help could get there.

Richard Lewis is one of the growing number of persons in the area who have a citizen's band radio transmitter. Like the others who are licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to operate such "radio stations," Richard is an avid enthusiast. Not only is there great enjoyment derived from the "hobby," but the operators of these citizens' band radio-sets are becoming extremely helpful in receiving and transmitting vital community information.

To identify themselves, the operators of these sets call themselves "CBers." Here's the information that Richard gave the News about this interesting group of people:

vice to customers of the business-

The Citizen's Band Club in this area is called the Ken-Tenn Five Watters and meets at 7:30 p. m. the second Friday of each month in the National Guard Armory in Martin. The president of the club is Clyde Myles.

Anyone interested in CB radios or planning to buy one is welcome at the meetings. A Civil Defense program in this area is being worked on and will include CBers.

The CB Club in Dyer has organized a rescue squad. They help search for anyone lost or missing and carry first aid kits, shovels and chains in their cars so they will be able to help if an emergency arises.

Judge Morris Rules Saturday On Counce Veto

South Fulton's raging controversy about the appointment of a Councilman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Arthur Matheny may be resolved this week-end. A ruling is expected to be handed down by Oblion Circuit Judge Ethel Morris on the validity of Mayor Milton Counce's veto of O. L. Lamascus to be appointed to this post.

Lamascus was voted upon by three members of the South Fulton Council. Mayor Counce vetoed the selection contending that the man receiving the highest number of votes among the defeated candidates should be appointed. W. W. Clarbore received the highest number.

A meeting held Saturday night ended as did an earlier one; tempers flared and a motion was made for adjournment before the council's business could be transacted.

Local CBers are very helpful to other CBers traveling through town. If help is needed to get on to the right highway, a CBer will come to the aid by giving directions and giving instructions as to location of motels and restaurants. When a CBer happens by after a wreck occurs, he can call another CBer who has a phone and police wreckers and ambulances can be at the scene of the accident in a shorter time than it would take someone to travel to a telephone and make a call. Many times lives can be saved by saving these few minutes.

When a CBer runs out of gas or has car trouble, he can get help without leaving his car. CB radios are also used by many businesses, such as laundries, taxis, ambulances and others to save time and expense by dispatching the units from one place to the other from a base station. This also helps others by giving much faster ser-

Red Cross Now In Fund Drive; Help Needed

The annual Red Cross Fund Campaign drive is in progress this month in Fulton. Nelson Tripp has been appointed fund campaign chairman, Mrs. Rodney Miller is in charge of solicitations in East Fulton, Mrs. Ernest Cardwell in West Fulton and Mrs. Reginald Williamson in the rural areas.

All contributions will be turned in to Mrs. Cavita Olive at the Chamber of Commerce office or to Mrs. Anna Belle Edwards at the Fulton County News.

Mr. Tripp, asking everyone to give as generously as they can, said, "The Red Cross is busy now very near us, in the flood and tornado areas. How close this came to Fulton!"

Hickman Plans Another Try To Acquire KU

Despite a setback in the courts, the City of Hickman has renewed its 27-months old effort to acquire the Kentucky Utilities electric system in Hickman. Special Judge David Reed nullified the 1961-71 vote of Hickman residents in a Feb. 28 decision.

Although a special edition of the Hickman Courier containing the sample ballot was printed and published Saturday, Nov. 2, 1962 and delivered before midnight Reed ruled that this was, in effect, not legal publication until Sunday, Nov. 4 and therefore did not meet the legal requirement of being published three days prior to the election.

Reed noted that the court nullified the will of local residents with "extreme reluctance."

Hickman city and plant board officials decided against the lengthy delay of appealing Reed's decision.

A letter was mailed to KU president Floyd I. Fairman Mar. 3 legally advising the corporation of the city's action and its desire to meet with KU officials to enter into an agreement on the value of KU property in Hickman.

Woman's Club Names Officers At Meet Friday

One of Fulton's most energetic citizens was elected president of the Fulton Woman's Club last Friday. Mrs. Robert (Dolly) Morgan, official chaperone for Banana Festival Princess Carol Gils-son, was unanimously elected to serve as head of the largest women's group in Fulton. Also unanimously elected to serve with Mrs. Morgan are: Mrs. William Stokes, vice president, Mrs. Vyron Mitchell, third vice president, Mrs. Mildred Freeman, treasurer and Mrs. Robert Graham, corresponding secretary. Officers were elected unanimously following the report of the nominating committee by Mrs. Win Whitel, chairman.

Hold-over officers are Mrs. W. C. Jacob, second vice president; Mrs. J. E. Fall, fourth vice president and Mrs. Charles Pawlukiewicz, recording secretary.

Following the business, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. J. O. Lewis, chairman of the Home and Garden Department, who welcomed the members in behalf of the department and introduced the program chairman, Mrs. Warren Graham. Mrs. Graham presented Mrs. Parks Weeks, who gave a most interesting and informative program on "Our Heritage of Silver."

South Fulton Residents Deserve Better Conduct From Their City Officials; Early Truce Needed

Last Sunday a group of citizens from Fulton and South Fulton attended an all-day program planning session at Kentucky Dam for this year's International Banana Festival. Meeting with a group of America's top-flight public relations experts some proposed programs were explored that would command the attention and respect of the South and North American continents.

Discussing the day's events on the drive back to Fulton one of the Festival officials in the car said: "Here we are, working night and day to build a community to attract industry and to make our towns better places to bring up our families, and then we pick up the Sunday paper and read a story that undoes everything good we can do for years."

The man making the statement expressed the views of every clear-thinking, civic-minded, respectable citizen in the two cities concerning the disgraceful fiasco in which the South Fulton city officials are now engaged. The controversy between the Mayor and Councilmen has divided the city into such battle areas that it may be a long time before any sensible and harmonious action can be taken to move the city forward.

There are times when local newspapers exert every effort to gloss over some of the less admirable antics of our city officials just for the sake of keeping our dirty linen out of the glare of the metropolitan newspapers. This is certainly not the thing to do, we know, but community pride often overshadows a news story that tends only to destroy our image as a wholesome community.

But this raging South Fulton controversy does not deserve, and will not get any editorial immunity from this newspaper. We think that Mayor Counce and the South Fulton City Council have long ago forgotten their obligation to serve the people of South Fulton to the best of their abilities, without personal gain or fame. Except for one, maybe two, perhaps three of the officials involved in the fracas, the others appear to be grandstanding, power-seeking, unrelenting individuals.

There's no need to recount the story of the controversy. It's been on the front pages of newspapers more times than we like to print, and far too many more times than is necessary. Perhaps this glare of the limelight is pleasing to some of the characters involved in this comedy of errors at South Fulton City Hall. Frankly, we think this enjoyment may keep this fiasco running for a long time. It might, unless some of the good people of South Fulton bring a halt to the matter in righteous indignation.

It would be to no avail to take sides with the personalities involved in the controversy. We do think it within our province to defend the principles of democracy that have been sadly trampled upon in the current South Fulton dilemma.

Three members of the South Fulton City Council voted to appoint O. L. Lamascus to fill the vacancy on the Council occasioned by the resignation of Arthur Matheny. With only five members remaining on the Council after Matheny's resignation, three members constitute a majority, in anybody's democratic analysis of "the majority rule." Under ordinary circumstances the matter would have been accepted by the other officials and the process of government would have gone on, either in a hectic or placid manner.

But it just so happens that Mr. Lamascus was a candidate for mayor in the race that was won by Milton Counce. It was a close race, too. Regardless of his political alignments, South Fulton people regard Mr. Lamascus as a knowledgeable, able, very efficient businessman. There are many who say that Mr. Lamascus' business experience would be a great help to South Fulton's fiscal complex.

Mayor Counce vetoed the Lamascus appointment contending that it has been customary to fill Council vacancies with the person receiving the highest number of votes of the defeated candidates. There are those who take sharp issue with the validity of this so-called custom. But, even Mayor Counce admits that it is custom, not law; which casts further doubt on the Mayor's real reason for vetoing the Lamascus appointment. There is nothing, we are told, in the South Fulton city charter to indicate that Mayor Counce could legally veto Lamascus.

As the situation stands now, however, Mayor Counce appears to be on firm legal ground in refusing to seat Lamascus until the veto is over-ridden. It takes a two-thirds majority of the Council to over-ride the veto and that takes four votes. It does not appear likely, at this time, that the fourth vote is forthcoming to join the majority who voted to appoint Lamascus.

According to some sincerely unbiased opinion we have sought in the matter, there appears to be some real doubt as to whether Mayor Counce had any legal, to say nothing of the moral right, to veto an appointment that was approved by the majority of the Council.

The whole miserable mess is like one great big checker game. If the three members of the Council who voted for Lamascus, rescind their appointment and propose another name, for the sake of harmony, will Mayor Counce retaliate by rescinding the name of W. W. Claiborne, who was the high man on the low totem pole? Mayor Counce will, in effect, be breaking the custom he has so tenaciously guarded in the controversy, if he so retaliates.

If the three-man majority abandons the idea of an appointment and if Mayor Counce clings to the "custom" routine, he has a good chance of splitting the Council into two factions, with three members on each side if Claiborne is appointed. When a vote on any particular action is tied, it becomes the prerogative of the Mayor to vote to break the tie. In this event Mayor Counce will be in the driver's seat, with the full responsibility to guide the destinies of South Fulton in a manner that the people of South Fulton deserve.

On the other hand, if the majority that voted for Lamascus acquiesces to the Mayor's doubtful right to veto the appointment, they will have lost the political and perhaps legal battle, but they will surely have won the moral victory to stand by their constituents and the good name of their community.

It is not always soothing to lose the battle, while winning the victory, but gee, it makes sleeping so much more peaceful and a conscious so much clearer.

There are not many people in these twin cities who are so unreasonable and so irascible that they cannot get along with their neighbors after a disagreement has occurred. So let's disagree, agreeably, but please let's not let our disagreements affect the lives of people who are innocent bystanders to the fray.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Emerson of Pilot Oak announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Pfc. Harold Carr of Roswell, New Mexico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Carr of Pilot Oak. The ceremony was solemnized on March 9 in the home of the bride's parents with Rev. E. B. Rucker of Fulton officiating. The couple left March 14 to make their home in Roswell.

The March meeting of the Art Department met March 9 in the home of Mrs. Fred Worth on West Street. The club chairman, Miss Mary Martin, presided over the business meeting.

Major Alben C. Robertson, 38, of Fulton, made the first airborne rocket attack against the Japs at Rabaul, with his Marine torpedo plane squadron. The attackers dropped into Rabaul harbor from 12,000 feet and made a low broadside approach on a 400-foot ship. The raid was a success. Major Robertson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Robertson.

During the whole four years of the Civil War, surely the most dramatic event that occurred indoors in Kentucky must have been one that took place 100 years ago this week in Melodeon Hall at Lexington.

Col. Frank Wolford, commander of the First Kentucky (Union) Cavalry regiment, was the most popular military hero of the Union supporters in the state. And he was highly respected by his Confederate foes as a competent and fearless cavalry leader and an honorable opponent. His regiment had been ordered to pursue John Morgan's Confederates when the latter had a good two days' start on their Indiana-Ohio raid the previous July; at the end of a thousand miles of hard riding Wolford had caught up with Morgan and accepted his sword when he surrendered. In the fighting around Knoxville early in 1864, Wolford had scored some brilliant successes.

On March 10 prominent Union men, including Gov. Thomas E. Bramlette, assembled in Melodeon Hall at Lexington for the formal presentation to Col. Wolford of a jeweled saber, a sash, pistols and spurs as tokens of their admiration and gratitude. When Wolford rose to make his speech of acceptance, the staunch Union men settled back in their seats to enjoy a treat, for the colonel was one of the best orators in Kentucky in a time when oratory was much enjoyed.

To the amazement of his audience, Wolford made a scathing attack upon his commander in chief, charging President Lincoln with "wantonly trampling upon the Constitution and crushing under the iron heel of military power the rights guaranteed by that instrument." He declared that Lincoln had violated "the solemn pledge that he had made in his inaugural address not to interfere with slavery in the states in which it existed. He further charged the President with a "violation of the

Letters To Editor

Editor of the News,
Fulton, Kentucky

Dear Friends:—

I note from your paper that you have recently lost your City Manager, and of course are looking for another one.

I happen to live in a medium sized town of about 25,000, and we have had the Commission Form of Government for about twenty years now.

At first we had a lot of troubles that you seem to be having now, and will continue to have until your citizens realize what it means. Instead of having one Councilman to have charge of the water department, and one the electrical, and another for the different departments, they are all to be managed by your City Manager, after approval by the board in regular session, and until this is done, it will not be a success.

We have had both, local and imported, Managers, and I am of the opinion that it is best to get outside trained for both your Manager and Chief of Police. I do believe in patronizing home businesses and people, but I have learned that a local man has too many supposed to be friends, always wanting something for their own benefit, and riding the Manager and the Police Chief, when an outsider would not have this to contend with.

One of our past Managers, was and still is, one of my very best friends, but he being a long-time citizen, he had too many riders after him all the time, and this job.

Another thing or way this will help, if you will let the Manager manage, you can get better men on your council, because they will not have to be bothered from the regular business by friends and others, as they can tell them to apply to the Manager, and their case will come before the Commission in regular meeting and they will be given due consideration.

Trusting that this information may be worth something, and you may use it if you see it will help, and with best wishes, I am,

A friend interested in Fulton.

Dear Jo:

You asked for letters in your last week's paper. Please do not publish my name, but I'd be glad to talk to anyone who is interested.

I'm still wishing for stop signs on State Line at Morris and College Street. A man came from headquarters last fall and said nothing could be done. Even the Federal Government, according to Senator Humphrey, says a bad law should be changed.

My problem has been solved because I never park on the Kentucky side by the school and I take my life in my hands by walking to my former home on the Tennessee side I still would like to protect others. The speed limit on State Line is 35 miles, but men who evaluate speed say that cars disregard the signs and even go at 75 miles an hour.

In the summer so many West Fulton stop signs are completely covered with leaves from trees or shrubs. Twice I've talked to the men in authority, but they have done nothing about it.

Why can't a tax-paying citizen have some rights? You are the only person I know who can get anything done, so I am appealing to you for help. Sometimes I wonder if we are living in a Democratic country.

Always best wishes for you.

Sincerely,
(Name withheld by request)

Contributions, Large And Small, Sought For Kennedy Library

John B. Breckinridge has accepted the Chairmanship of a drive by the Friends of Kentucky Libraries in each county of Kentucky for a John F. Kennedy Appalachian Memorial Fund for a modest but functional library and Community Center Building in West Liberty, the county seat of Morgan County.

Morgan County is one of six Appalachian counties the late President planned to visit on Dec. 6, to see for himself the ravages there of constant floods and of chronic and acute depression.

The state wide goal is at least $30,000.

Morgan County will provide $10,000 - $15,000 in local matching funds from large numbers of individual donors and from income from a favorable local vote for a tax for library and bookmobile service. A lot will be provided worth over $15,000 from the County Board of Education.

With its limited funds from the local tax, matching funds are possible, but the county can not finance an entire building. The library will, however, be full of a growing collection of excellent books, since it participates in the Eastern Kentucky Library Region, whose headquarters is in Floyd County.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will be invited to dedicate the building in 1965. Funds for the building will be presented to Morgan County, April 18, 1964 - this last day of National Library Week.

At present the library is located in one half of a small metal quonset hut. The other half is occupied by a classroom from a nearby school. There is no room for anyone to sit down. This building is not conveniently located, and is difficult to reach.

In spite of these handicaps, the Library and Bookmobile program have been extremely popular, circulating over 70,000 books a year. The library is run by a trained Librarian, who is willing to plan and sponsor many educational and cultural programs during the evening hours - if a new building is provided. Young people already congregate in the library at night, but they can do very little in the small space available.

A Memorial Book will include the signatures and names of donors of any amount under each county in Kentucky. This book will be sent to Mrs. Kennedy, who will be asked to return it to West Liberty, where it will remain permanently.

Not only individuals, but clubs and organizations will want to be represented in this important book.

Most libraries will accept donations, or will be glad to give information as to where donations may be sent, or where the local Chairman for the drive may be reached. Pages from the Memorial Book are being sent to each Public Library, where they may be signed. Children and adults are encouraged to donate anything, no matter how small.

This Appalachian Memorial will be a living tribute not only to a President who was a great reader, but also to the generosity of all Kentucky's counties.

This memorial will help one county to help itself in solving problems for self improvement and a continuing education. It will point the way towards state wide improvement as well.

All donations to the Friends of Kentucky Libraries are tax deductible. They may be sent to the following:

NEW INDUSTRIAL DIRECTORY

State Commerce Commissioner Katherine Peden (left), and Damon Harrison, director of the Commerce Department's Division of Economic Research, look over just-off-the-press copies of the 1963-64 Kentucky Industrial Directory at Frankfort. The new 496-page directory lists manufacturing plants, their location, key personnel and products in Kentucky.

Kentucky Industrial Directory Now Available; Lists All Manufacturers

The State Department of Commerce has begun distribution of the 1963-64 Kentucky Industrial Directory which lists all manufacturing plants in the state and their products ranging from acetone to yogurt.

"The directory is an invaluable buyers and sellers guide and evidence of Kentucky's board-based industrial structure," State Commerce Commissioner Katherine Peden said.

The directory lists some 3,000 manufacturing plants in well over 40 Kentucky communities. Data on communities where plants are located and names of key plant personnel are also listed. A cross-reference index is provided for cities and counties and an appendix lists information on power and transportation facilities available in the state.

The nearly 400-page directory, the eighth published by the Department of Commerce's Division of Economic Research since 1949, costs $10 per copy. The directory may be ordered from the Department of Commerce, New Capitol Annex Office Building, Frankfort, Ky.

It is published with the cooperation of the Associated Industries of Kentucky, the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and the Louisville Chamber of Commerce.

PIERCE STATION

By Mrs. Charles Lewis

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Raymond and song, Don, of Nashville spent the week end with relatives here. Miss Paula Long was one of the South Fulton youngsters who spent Saturday in Memphis attending the Ice Follies.

Bill Cashion and little daughter of Fulton visited their grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Orleans, Sunday afternoon.

We extend sincere sympathy to Mrs. Bill Rogers in the death of her brother last week in Nashville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Alford, of Dyersburg, visited relatives here Saturday. Mr. Alford suffered a painful accident two weeks ago, when his hand was caught in a machine where he works.

ROD GUNN, in The CHICAGO TRIBUNE, WROTE RECENTLY:

In the southern part of France, where the vineyards are found, there are chronic complainers then, as there are today. When one of the grape pluckers referred to some nonspecific, medically unidentified pain, it was called a sham pain. Complaints of this type were so common in one particular Champagne region of France.

If you can do better (and you probably can) send your material to me at 7447 Skokie, Ill. Contributions gratefully accepted!

It's about time: To take stock of how we're keeping those New Year resolutions

Most are broken by now, it's safe to wager.

Questions And Answers For

VETERANS AFFAIRS

Q—My classification is 1-A but I am married and have two stepchildren. Will this change my classification?

A—If you are maintaining a bona fide family relationship with your wife and stepchildren, you are now eligible for a new classification.

Q—I am 18 years of age and I know that I will be called in the near future for a physical examination. A few months ago I suffered the loss of one eye in an automobile accident. Will I have to report?

A—You should have your physician furnish your local board with a statement with respect to the loss of one eye and the local board may consider his statement in determining whether you are eligible for a new classification.

Q—I am classified I-D. I have just received my final discharge from the Army Reserve. Will this change my classification?

A—When your Selective Service file is documented with a copy of this record, your local board will classify you into the lowest classification for which you are eligible.

Q—I failed the Army Educational test on February 20, 1964. I cannot get a job. Can the draft board help me?

A—Shortly you will receive a referral letter from your Selective Service Local Board with respect to a counseling program administered by the Department of Labor. Although this is a voluntary program, you are encouraged to contact the office of the Division of Employment Service at the address given in the letter and avail yourself of this free counseling service.

Q—A friend of mine takes "War Orphans Education" courses and her mother is living. How can she qualify as an orphan?

A—The War Orphans Education Program (which now also includes children of peacetime veterans under certain conditions) was set up for children whose veteran-parent died because of service-connected disabilities. For the purpose of the program, such children are considered orphans even though the other parent still lives.

Q—Are there VA hospitals in Alaska and Hawaii?

A—These are the only two states that do not have a VA hospital within their borders.

Q—Are plans under way to honor survivors of the Spanish-American War? There are only a few of them left.

A—This may happen in the future. At present there are still 20,000 of these Spanish-American War veterans alive.

'64 CHEVROLET—THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMER

Chevrolet Impala Convertible

Nothing feels steep in a Chevrolet Impala (including the price!)

A hill is just something to admire the view from in a '64 Chevrolet with engines up to a 425-hp V8.

And if Chevrolet can go over a whole mountain so you hardly feel it, you can imagine how it goes over plain old bumps. Jet-smooth, of course, because we put a big coil spring at all four wheels (and 700 sound and shock absorbers throughout the car).

As you'd expect, Chevrolet turns in its usual fine performance with everything inside that big beautiful Body by Fisher, too. All kinds of stretch-out room. Wide thick-cushioned seats. Yards of deep-twist carpeting and elegant fabric and vinyl upholstery. You feel good just being there. You can see how anyone might get the idea this is a high-priced car. Unless they happened to look first at its Chevrolet price.

And your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to show you that the price is probably what you'll feel least of all.

time students who earned a B or better average for the term.

Dorothy Cox Engaged To Henry C. Griffith

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Cox of Fulton, Kentucky announces the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Laveria Cox, to Henry Clark Griffith, son of Mrs. Floeie Griffith and the late Dorman Griffith of Greenfield, Tennessee.

The wedding will be solemnized at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 5th, in the Smith Street Church of Christ in Fulton. All relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend.

State Closing Area Offices For Planning

Area Planning and Zoning offices at Ashland, Corbin and Hopkinsville will be closed on or before July 1, in connection with State Commerce Commissioner Katherine Peden's program for economy and more efficient management within the Commerce Department, she has announced.

Miss Peden said the move is in keeping with Governor Edward T. Breathitt's goal of increased economy in state government and is designed to better coordinate planning and zoning, and urban renewal services of the Department of Commerce to communities in the three areas.

The closing of the three area offices, Miss Peden said, would in no way affect the work of the division to local planners and civic leaders. By centralization of personnel, many communities which have not had planning and zoning services will be given opportunities for this division's work, she said.

Older Girl Scouts say:

"On my Honor, I will try to do my duty to God . . . and my Country,
To help other people at all times.

From the Girl Scout Promise evolved the Ten Laws which project concepts of Loyalty, Honesty, Courtesy, Cheerfulness, Cleanliness, Usefulness, and Kindness. The PROMISE and LAWS provide a code of ethics which young people can understand and apply in their daily lives.

The spiritual progress of Girl Scouting is always stressed. Each girl is encouraged to become a better member of her own faith and to respect and appreciate the religious convictions of others. Belief in God and acknowledgment of one's responsibility to God as expressed in the PROMISE are recognized as basic to development of character and sound citizenship.

CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

In recognition of National Home Demonstration Week, a display was arranged by the Chestnut Glade Club in a window of Weeks' Store in Fulton last week. An attractive display of artificial fruit and vegetables, with instructions for making these articles, was exhibited. Members of this club will be glad to answer any questions concerning this craft.

Friends in this community were shocked to learn that Henry Twigg suddenly passed away at his home near Dresden Thursday night. Funeral services were held at Sandy Branch Monday.

Friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Mart Reed has been dismissed from the hospital after several weeks being a patient there, due to a broken hip.

Relatives have received word that Mrs. Mathilda Jackson had surgery for gallstones in Chicago, where she is spending the winter with her son, Veitch, and family. Last reports were that she is recovering satisfactorily.

Billie Copeland, Sr. has been dismissed from the Illinois Central Hospital in Chicago, where he was a patient for the past week. Sympathy is extended to the family of Dorothy Dean Rose, who passed away Saturday after several months' illness.

A Bible Institute will be at the Ruthville Church March 26-27-28 at 7 p. m. Brother Ray Whitney from Dresden will conduct these services. The revival at the Ruthville Church will begin the second Sunday in July, with Bro. Melvin Howell conducting these services.

Housewives know that the horn of plenty held scant relations compared with today's food store. A team of economists has just returned from counting the abundance available in the typical American community. Their statistical grocery cart is ready to collapse under the weight of their food figures. Item by item they counted selected inventories for super markets, supermarkets, and curb markets in two neighboring communities in a near-by state. Then they surveyed again by size of store and the neighborhood it served. Food was found in an almost stupefying variety regardless of the method used in the study. The housewife could have found 85 different kinds and cuts of meat. If that would not fill the needs, the shopper could have pushed the possibilities to 135 by checking in all the stores. Cold cuts and seafood were not on the list of meats available in this investigation.

Take canned beans for a sample of everyday eating. There were cut beans and French style, fancy long vertical packs and whole beans, green beans with or without seasoning. There were nine different varieties of canned beans not to mention fresh and frozen types.

The larger food stores offered well over 70 different varieties of canned vegetables and the choice in some was up to 100. The figure as a measure of variety isn't even near the mark. You have to add, brands-to-please the individual housewife's taste—can sizes to suit the needs as to the size of the family and packaging to comply with today's mode of living. One store in the survey offered 262 different combinations of can sizes, brands, packages, and varieties of vegetables alone.

The most likely place to find the widest variety of foods, incidentally, is not in the richest part of town. The survey found the biggest stock of items in super markets in the lower income neighborhoods. It is the budget conscious housewife who needs and gets the widest selection of foods in order to stretch her budget. Convenience is another demand of the modern shopper, and this means in the form of late hours and seven-day service. The somewhat old fashioned neighborhood store and the new superettes both make sure this accommodation is met, with the neighborhood store being open more hours of the two studied. It was found that in the different communities, local food stores do their best to provide the items and service that are required of them.

LOCAL MERCHANTS HAVE IT.

News From Our Boys In The SERVICE

SOUTHWESTERN TAIWAN—Marine Staff Sergeant Leroy Hicks, son of Mrs. Norah Lynch of Route 5, Fulton, Ky., is participating with the Second Battalion, Ninth Marines, in a coordinated U. S.-Nationalist Chinese amphibious exercise called "Operation Backpack" being conducted off the coast of Taiwan.

Backpack is an exercise to test the amphibious capabilities and readiness of the forces of the Seventh Fleet and the Nationalist Chinese Navy. The exercise, with over 40,000 men and 140 units participating, will culminate in an amphibious assault on beaches of southern Taiwan, and will demonstrate the effectiveness of the United States Seventh Fleet to rapidly move a significant combat force to a troubled area in order to assist an ally.

Prior to the assault, aircraft of the Seventh Fleet will soften beach defenses. In addition, support ships will conduct anti-submarine warfare exercises and the area surrounding the beachhead will be cleared of any obstructions and mines.

"Backpack" is similar to those exercises conducted periodically by units of the Seventh Fleet with SEATO and other allied nations in the Far East to improve their proficiency in coordinated amphibious warfare operations and to maintain working relationships with allied nations.

FORT KNOX, KY.—Pvt. Curtis W. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis R. Rice, Route 1, Hickman, Ky., completed eight weeks of advanced armor training under the Reserve Enrollment Program at the Army Armor Center, Fort Knox, Ky., Feb. 28.

Rice received instruction in the four duties a tank crewman may perform: gunner, weapon loader, driver and tank commander.

The 17-year-old National Guardsman completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He attended Fulton County High School.

Before going on active duty, Rice was employed by the Major Oil Co., Hickman.

USS OKANOGAN (FHTC)—Carl W. Misher, boatswain's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey M. Misher of 225 West Wade St., Fulton, Ky., is participating aboard the attack transport USS Okanogan in a coordinated U. S.-Nationalist Chinese amphibious exercise called "Operation Backpack" being conducted off the coast of Taiwan.

The Thirteenth District Association of Registered Nurses includes Calloway, Fulton, Graves, and Hickman counties.

This will be a dinner meeting. Reservations can be made by contacting Miss Ruth E. Cole, Director of Nursing, Murray State College, by March 24.

The Calloway County Council on Alcoholism will have a speaker to explain the purpose and work of this organization.

The course of the patient's care is shown as her complaints are catalogued and interpreted and as the staff develops a nursing care plan. All the members of the case are either nurses or other hospital personnel. It should be of great interest to all nurses responsible for patient care.

All graduate nurses of the area are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE

PROVIDES YOUR CHEAPEST ~AND OFTEN MOST~ VALUABLE PLANT NUTRIENTS.

LIMESTONE'S MOST PUBLICIZED CONTRIBUTION TO PLANT GROWTH IS ITS ABILITY TO "SWEETEN THE SOIL" (CORRECT ACIDITY). BUT LIMESTONE PERFORMS MANY VITAL CHORES:

IT SUPPLIES CALCIUM AND MAGNESIUM, BOTH NECESSARY FOR PLANT GROWTH.

IT CORRECTS SOIL ACIDITY AND MAKES MORE SOIL MINERALS AVAILABLE.

IT IMPROVES PHYSICAL CONDITION OF THE SOIL, AND STIMULATES SOIL MICROBE ACTIVITY.

PERHAPS MOST SPECTACULAR~LIMESTONE ACTUALLY CONSERVES NUTRIENTS. WHEN YOU LIME ACID SOILS, THE CALCIUM AND MAGNESIUM IN THE LIMESTONE TIE UP IRON AND ALUMINUM BEFORE THEY CAN COMBINE WITH AVAILABLE PHOSPHORUS.

AND POTASH IS SAVED BECAUSE IN LIMED SOILS, PLANTS STOP HOGGING POTASSIUM AND UTILIZE THE CALCIUM AND MAGNESIUM~LIMESTONE EVEN FEEDS THE SOIL MICROBES, MAKING THEM MORE ACTIVE.

NOW YOUR LIMESTONE. IT'S MEASURED BY CALCIUM AND MAGNESIUM CONTENT, POWER TO NEUTRALIZE ACIDS IN THE SOIL AND FINENESS QUALITY. THE FINER THE LIMESTONE THE FASTER IT ACTS IN THE SOIL.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION student Thomas Chamberlain, a senior at Madisonville High School, attends school in mornings, sells shoes in afternoons at a department store. He is one of more than 900 such students in Kentucky enrolled in this practical program of vocational education.

Two Seniors Awarded Scholarships For Their Outstanding Abilities

"From the FHS Kennel"
Two senior boys recently signed grants-in-aid for their outstanding abilities and record in sports.

Terry Beadles and Duane McAllister each signed a four-year grant-in-aid to play football with the University of Kentucky next year.

The boys signed at the home of Dr. Ward Bushart, U. K. trustee. Coach McCann, their parents, and close friends witnessed this event.

Terry has been an outstanding athlete in football and basketball. Last year he was the high scorer in the West Kentucky Conference. This year at the quarterback position, he gained 1244 yards rushing with an average of ten yards per carry. His accurate passing accounted for 760 yards. Terry led the scoring of the Bulldogs this year with a total of 118 points. He has been a starter on the basketball team for three years. The key man of the team, Terry is one of the best guards. Terry's dog, Pal, is the only one that looks and as Terry and Duane congratulate each other on their grants-in-aid and as they contemplate their future with the University of Kentucky in the state.

Duane, who was a football starter in his freshman year, has had much to do with the great record of the last two years. He has done a good job in the positions of tackle and fullback. Duane plays forward on the basketball team.

Terry and Duane are both honor students. They were recently named to the All-WEC team and the Class A Courier-Journal All-State team.

Terry Beadles Will Play On West Team

Terry Beadles, Fulton City's spectacular quarterback, has been selected as a member of the West All-Stars and will play in the annual East-West game in Lexington in August.

Terry, this leading scorer on the Bulldog team for the past two seasons, received a four-year grant-in-aid to play football at the University of Kentucky.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beadles of Fulton and was recently chosen Mr. Bulldog of 1964. He was chosen on the All State Class A football team and the Courier-Journal's All State third team this year. Terry was chosen for All WEC honors and was named by the Evansville, Indiana, Courier and Press as an All-Star for excellence in sports.

A THIRSTY LAND

Men have a thirst and a longing for goodness and righteousness. Even the most parched soul is touched by acts of kindness, forgiveness, and love. Jesus said, "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life."

May all who are thirsty for a oneness with man and with God find satisfaction and fulfillment by attending church this Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Mrs. Cleo Apperson of Mayfield, graduated from the Mayfield High School, attended Transylvania College in Lexington and was awarded his BS degree. He received his graduate degree from the College of the Bible in Lexington.

He served the Guthrie Christian Church as minister for two years and was pastor of the Henderson First Christian Church for seven years. While in Henderson, his congregation built a new church building, one of the most modern in the state.

Rev. Apperson is the pastor of the Meridian First Christian Church in November 1962. He is presently serving as president of the Mississippi Christian Churches Association.

He is married to the former Jo Ann Hewlett of Owensboro and they are the parents of two children, Amy Wilson and Ann Burrus.

The public is cordially invited to come to the First Christian Church in Fulton and hear Rev. Apperson next week.

Baptists Name Building After Rev. Bradley

"Bradley Hall" will be the name of the administration building at Pine Crest, by action of the Kentucky Baptist Board of Child Care taken in its initial meeting of the new year, at Spring Meadows, on January 13.

This was done as a fitting memorial to the life and work of the late Rev. Sam Ed Bradley, whose ministry as superintendent of Spring Meadows and later as general superintendent, was so intricately bound up with the early history of the Morehead institution.

The suggestion that this be done, came first from Mrs. Virginia R. Fields, Pine Crest's superintendent, and long-time friend and associate of Brother Bradley in our Kentucky Baptist child care program.

only choice center meat. And you never get just "ends" if you buy less than a half loin. You get full rib or loin portions with plenty of BAY in the MEAT. This same care goes into our beef, lamb, veal and poultry, as well as pork. That's why every cut is guaranteed to please you — or your money back!
